“Farming isn’t a battle against nature, but a partnership with it. It is respecting the basics of nature in action and ensuring that they continue.”

Rajnarayan Kaushik IAS
Director General,
HAMETI,

Haryana is often called the "Food Mine" of the country. About 80 percent of its population is agriculture dependant. Agriculture is the backbone of our Indian economy also. State has played a key role in green revolution making our country self reliant in food production. The hardworking and dynamic and resilient farmers of the State have made the State self sufficient in providing food grains and also a major contributor of food grains in meeting the needs of other States of the country. As a result, Haryana has been emerging as one of the most important food bowls of the country being the second largest contributor to our national food reserves.

Since, training is the tested tool for enhancing the performance levels of employees, thus HAMETI is focusing to accomplish the need for development of acumen and human resources. HAMETI is engaged in effective implementation of the Haryana State Training Policy, 2020 to fulfil the training needs and also to upgrade the skill and knowledge of farmers and functionaries of the Agriculture Department.

HAMETI is organising training programmes from time to time for staff, farmers and various input dealers. HAMETI has been striving for the bright future of agriculture and farmers by imparting training and making them aware about the schemes of Govt. of India and state Govt. as well.
